LaPlata, Maryland (11/5/08) – The Charles County Economic Development Department has announced that Kingdomware Technologies® has been selected to receive the county's first ever Entrepreneur of the Month Award in the implementation of the county's new program entitled Soar With The Eagles. The Soar With The Eagles program was designed to recognize and celebrate the success of county based entrepreneurs. The first presentation in which Kingdomware will be honored will be on November 5, 2008 at 5:15pm in the Commissioners' meeting room.

“Kingdomware is proud to be recognized as the first Entrepreneur of the Month,” said Tim Barton, CEO. “With more than fifteen years of service to local, state, federal government and industry, Kingdomware is committed to providing continued quality solutions and value added services to our clients locally and across the nation.”

Kingdomware provides technology, web and management solutions to enterprise problems. One of Kingdomware's primary focuses is alleviating human capital challenges by improving the efficiency and effectiveness of government and corporate business operations through value added solutions and services.

“The Commissioners are very pleased with the selection of the Entrepreneur of the Month,” said Charles County President Wayne Cooper. “...we should appreciate our ...businesses and welcome new ventures that move into our area...added Cooper.”

The County Commissioners will present Kingdomware with a resolution identifying them as the Charles County Entrepreneur of the Month and the economic development site will have a page featuring companies who have been recognized.
